Ambitious and Anxious: How Chinese College Students Succeed and Struggle in American Higher Education by Yingyi Ma

The sociologist Yingyi Ma offers a multifaceted analysis of this new wave of Chinese students based on research in both Chinese high schools and American higher-education institutions.

America for Americans: A History of Xenophobia in the United States by Erika Lee

The United States is known as a nation of immigrants. But it is also a nation of xenophobia. In America for Americans, Erika Lee shows that an irrational fear, hatred, and hostility toward immigrants has been a defining feature of our nation from the colonial era to the Trump era.

Asian American Dreams by Helen Zia

This groundbreaking book is about the transformation of Asian Americans from a few small, disconnected, and largely invisible ethnic groups into a self-identified racial group that is influencing every aspect of American society.

Chinese Must Go: Violence, Exclusion, and the Making of the Alien in America by Beth Lew-Williams

The American West erupted in anti-Chinese violence in 1885. Following the massacre of Chinese miners in Wyoming Territory, communities throughout California and the Pacific Northwest harassed, assaulted, and expelled thousands of Chinese immigrants.

Driven Out: The Forgotten War Against Chinese Americans by Jean Pfaelzer

Driven Out exposes a shocking story of ethnic cleansing in California and the Pacific Northwest when the first Chinese Americans were rounded up and purged from more than three hundred communities by lawless citizens and duplicitous politicians.

Eat a Peach: A Memoir by David Chung and Gabe Ulla

From the chef behind Momofuku and star of Netflix's Ugly Delicious—an intimate account of the making of a chef, the story of the modern restaurant world that he helped shape, and how he discovered that success can be much harder to understand than failure.

Ghosts of Gold Mountain: The Epic Story of the Chinese Who Built the Transcontinental Railroad by Gordon H. Chang

A history of the Chinese workers who built the Transcontinental Railroad, helping to forge modern America only to disappear into the shadows of history until now.

Interior Chinatown by Charles Yu

Interior Chinatown is an adventurous novel that shows the otherness of the Asian experience through a literal screenplay. It won the 2020 National Book Award for Fiction.

Minor Feelings: An Asian American Reckoning by Cathy Park Hong

As the daughter of Korean immigrants, Cathy Park Hong grew up steeped in shame, suspicion, and melancholy. She would later understand that these "minor feelings" occur when American optimism contradicts your own reality—when you believe the lies you're told about your own racial identity.

Strangers from a Different Shore: The History of Asian Americans by Ronald Takaki

A powerful and moving history of Asian Americans that spans centuries, from the acclaimed author of A Different Mirror. In an extraordinary blend of narrative history, personal recollection, and oral testimony, the author presents a sweeping history of Asian Americans.

The Asian American Achievement Paradox by Jennifer Lee and Min Zhou

The sociologists offer a compelling account of the academic achievement of the children of Asian immigrants. Drawing on in-depth interviews with the adult children of Chinese immigrants and Vietnamese refugees and survey data, Lee and Zhou bridge sociology and social psychology to explain how immigration laws, institutions, and culture interact to foster high achievement among certain Asian American groups.

The Chinese in America: A Narrative History by Iris Chang

In an epic story that spans 150 years and continues to the present day, Iris Chang tells of a people's search for a better life—the determination of the Chinese to forge an identity and a destiny in a strange land and, often against great obstacles, to find success.

The Color of Success: Asian Americans and the Origins of the Model Minority by Ellen D. Wu

It tells of the astonishing transformation of Asians in the United States from the yellow peril to model minorities—peoples distinct from the white majority but lauded as well-assimilated, upwardly mobile, and exemplars of traditional family values—in the middle decades of the twentieth century.

The Fortune Cookie Chronicles by Jennifer 8. Lee

It traces the history of Chinese-American experience through the lens of the food. In a compelling blend of sociology and history, Jenny Lee exposes the indentured servitude Chinese restaurants expect from illegal immigrant chefs, investigates the relationship between Jews and Chinese food, and weaves a personal narrative about her own relationship with Chinese food.

The Making of Asian America: A History by Erika Lee

It tells the little-known history of Asian Americans and their role in American life, from the arrival of the first Asians in the Americas to the present-day.

The Souls of Yellow Folk: Essays by Wesley Yang
